The Bank of England warns of recession as people will have no money to spend resulting from the huge energy price increases.

One of the most miserable things to put up with is being cold inside your home.

We must do all we can to stop that happening to millions of people. Something like six million back in March. It could well be even more millions in October.

We are a very small Company but we have big ideas. We want to help keep people warm by spreading infrared Heating across the UK in the cheapest way possible. We would like to keep heating bills as low as £600 a year, and less for smaller properties, from the expected bills of £2,800 for gas.

It will not be easy because of the expected demand. If we need additional help to supply proper infrared heating, we will ask for it.

We are hoping by the end of May to have an option for Personal loans to be available for consumers to purchase infrared to cancel gas. We will not know until we meet with a big five Bank within the next three weeks. They have however already shown interest in the idea.

In the meantime, the Government could start to engage with us to set up a Government Loan Scheme, or even a Grant Scheme for around £2000, saving £3000 for each consumer under the HP Scheme.

Something can be done before it is too late but action is needed now, and not in September, when the cold weather starts to appear again.

To start our scheme, we invite consumers to send us the room sizes they wish to heat. We will then provide a Free Specification of the infrared heating required, with a price and a suggested formula for using the least possible heat to obtain the best possible result. Once we have a Personal loan Scheme in place, we will provide the details to make applications.
